Before we build a better world, we built a community.

Starting a show choir from scratch was not easy, but my Lifesync friends taught me the value of teamwork, while injecting fun and vibrancy into my University life.

Nguyen Minh Chau

Beginning with the organising of our very own Orientation, as pioneering students, we were able to actively participate in defining how we wanted to meet new people and start University life!

Kevin Josiah Neo

Whether it is having a nice home cooked meal together, helping one another with our school work, making music or playing a game of sports together, the most mundane of activities, when shared with good company, become the best of times.

Teri Lim

I joined the Pro Tem Student Council because I wanted to be at the forefront of building the SUTD community. Being a pioneer is not about waiting for things to happen, it’s about making them happen.

Joshua Chong

At SUTD, students have the autonomy to pioneer clubs and organise activities which foster leadership and ingenuity. With a hand in developing a distinctive community, their involvement in these initiatives underscores how personal development is just as important as academic success. To enjoy a revolutionary education for an exciting career and to build a better world, visit www.sutd.edu.sg

A BETTER WORLD BY DESIGN.